Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Tomorrow is set to be the hottest day of the year so far, feeling hottest across England and Wales with plenty of sunshine. Less-hot further north with occasional cloud in places, but also staying mainly dry with sunny spells. The heat of the day could spark-off the odd thunderstorm across parts of central and eastern England.

Outlook for Sunday and Monday:
Continuing fine, dry and very warm across many areas with sunshine and light winds, and feeling hot in the south on Sunday. A little more cloud around in exposed northwestern parts though, and cooler here with a few spells of drizzle to contend with.
