Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Any early mist and fog will clear this morning to leave a fine and dry day for most. There'll be patchy cloud and sunny spells, but in eastern areas there will also be the risk of seeing the odd shower through the day.

Outlook for Monday and Tuesday:

By Monday there will be heavy and blustery showers affecting eastern parts of England, which could turn thundery at times. Elsewhere it'll be dry, bright and chilly with just the odd light shower possible. Tuesday will be mostly settled with a few showers, but these will no longer be heavy or thundery in Eastern England.
