Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
It will be a rather cloudy day across the UK, with the best of any bright or sunny spells across northern and western parts throughout the day. Meanwhile, there will continue to be some rain affecting parts of East Anglia and southeast of England. Feeling chilly in the northeasterly breeze.

Outlook for Sunday and Monday:
Sunday and Monday will be mostly dry and rather cloudy for many. However, there will be some brighter spells towards the north and west. Thicker cloud will continue to give outbreaks of rain across southeast England. Freshening winds and patchy light rain may reach the far northwest later on Tuesday.
