++ Valid for broadcast at 0858

Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom until dawn tomorrow:
It will be a cloudy, wet and windy start to the day in the south and west, but fine elsewhere. Rain will move across all parts through the day, away from the far north, with some heavy bursts in the south. Sunshine and showers will develop in places to end the day and persistent rain will clear to the southeast.

Outlook for Thursday and Friday:

Thursday and Friday will be breezy for most with scattered showers, mainly affecting the north and west. Showers will be heavy at times with a risk of hail and thunder, mainly in the north. Prolonged sunny spells are likely elsewhere.
