++ Valid for broadcast at 2159

Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
It will be a cool and unsettled day with sunshine and showers across all parts, heavy and thundery in places. The heaviest and most frequent showers will be across the north and west, and a band of heavy showers will push eastwards across southern parts through the day. It should become drier across south western parts through the afternoon.

Outlook for Monday and Tuesday:
Further showers are expected on Monday but these should be lighter and more isolated across southern areas, giving more sunshine. Rain in the southwest on Tuesday morning will spread across much of the UK through the day, accompanied by strengthening winds.
