Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Friday will be another day of sunny spells and showers across the United Kingdom. The showers will mainly affect Scotland and Northern Ireland, which are likely to see heavy, thundery downpours in places. England and Wales will also see some showers but these will be much more isolated with more in the way of warm sunshine.

Outlook for Saturday and Sunday:
The weather will remain unsettled with warm sunny periods and showers for most parts of the UK. There is a risk of heavy showers or thundery rain affecting southeastern and eastern England on Saturday afternoon, evening and overnight, this clearing during Sunday morning.
