++ Valid for broadcast at 2159

Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
A dry and bright day for most, particularly for central and eastern parts.
Western and far southern areas may stay cloudier with some light drizzle at times, mainly around the coast. It will feel mild for February, with a southwesterly breeze becoming strong at times to the north.

Outlook for Friday and Saturday:

It will remain mild on Friday, although a band of rain will move southeast to affect most parts during the day. Rain will be followed by scattered showers, with clear spells overnight. A few showers are likely on Saturday, although there should be plenty of dry and sunny spells too.
