Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Scotland, Northern Ireland and the north of England will have sunny spells but also occasional showers, which could be heavy and thundery in places. Outbreaks of rain in the south of England will gradually die out, with Wales and the Midlands having a mainly dry and bright day.

Outlook for Wednesday and Thursday:
Cloudy and breezy across Scotland, Northern Ireland and northeastern England with occasional showers. These could merge to give some longer spells of rain, more especially on Thursday. Elsewhere across England and Wales, it will be mainly dry and brighter with some sunny intervals.
