Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
It will be a rather cloudy day across much of the country but the cloud should break at times across parts of central and southern England to give some bright or sunny spells. Further north and west, cloud will be thick enough to give some rain at times, heaviest across western Scotland. Breezy across many areas but milder than recently.

Outlook for Thursday and Friday:
Much of the country will see bright or sunny intervals on Thursday although light rain may continue to affect parts of the north and west at times. Persistent rain will spread southeast through Friday with cooler and showery conditions following.
