Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:

Monday will be much drier and brighter than the last few days, though there may well be a few light showers developing during the day, mainly across central and northern areas, but most places will stay dry and bright with some sunshine.

Outlook for Tuesday and Wednesday:

Outbreaks of rain will spread from the southwest on Tuesday morning to affect all parts for a time. Some of this will be heavy at times in the west, and will be accompanied by some strong winds. Rain will clear late Tuesday with most places having a dry albeit rather cloudy day on Wednesday.
