Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Most places are expected to be dry after patchy rain clears the far southwest. There will be good spells of sunshine over England and Wales, more cloudy over Scotland and Northern Ireland. A few showers are expected to develop, chiefly over the east. Light to moderate northwest winds.

Outlook for Wednesday and Thursday:
Mostly dry, though rather cloudy, on Wednesday with light winds. Cloud thickening across Northern Ireland and the southwest, with rain arriving in the evening. Rain spreading east to affect all districts on Thursday, soon clearing Northern Ireland, then most western districts by evening.
