++ Valid for broadcast at 2159

Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Further spells of rain and strong winds are expected for northern and western Scotland, with some heavy rain at times. It will brighten up across many other areas after a cloudy start, with some warm afternoon sunshine, especially in southeastern England. It will be breezy though and may feel cooler around some western coasts where cloud lingers.

Outlook for Sunday and Monday:

It will stay generally cloudy in the northwest of the UK with outbreaks of rain. Elsewhere it will be mainly dry with good sunny spells in the south and east of England. However, it will become cloudier from the west on Sunday.
