Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Early mist and fog will clear quickly then some brightness, but cloud will steadily thicken from the west. Most areas will have some light rain by the late evening. Some of this rain could be heavy and thundery particularly in the southwest. The winds will be generally light and from the south. Temperatures around normal.

Outlook for Sunday and Monday:
Mainly dry on Sunday but cloudy, although the west will have some outbreaks of light rain throughout the day. Monday will be very unsettled with a band of rain, heavy at times, crossing the country. It will also become windy during the day.
