

Forecast For The United Kingdom
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0700 on Thursday 10 Jul 2014

++ Valid for broadcast at 0858

Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom until dawn tomorrow:
Cloud and occasionally heavy rain will affect many eastern areas through Thursday. It will be sunnier and warmer to the west of the rainband although cloud and rain may affect Northern Ireland and western fringes. Rain, locally thundery, will continue in the east overnight, perhaps reaching central areas, with drier conditions elsewhere.

Outlook for Friday and Saturday:

Rain across eastern and central England through Friday will ease but it will remain cloudy. Further north and west, it will be largely warm and sunny but rain will reach the far northwest later. Saturday will see sunshine and locally heavy showers, with rain in the west later.

(C) Crown Copyright 2014. Published by the Met Office.