++ Valid for broadcast at 2159

Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Most parts of England and Wales will start dry and bright. Frequent blustery wintry showers in northwest Scotland will spread to other parts of Scotland, Northern Ireland, northern England, and north Wales later. Gales or severe gales are likely over northern hills. Staying mainly dry and bright in south and southeast England, but cold.

Outlook for Tuesday and Wednesday:

Strong winds and rain or sleet showers are expected on Tuesday, perhaps occasionally prolonged in the north, although bright at times in the south. Cold northerly winds are forecast on Wednesday with wintry showers in Scotland, the east coast of England and western parts of Wales.
