Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
A dry, bright start for northern and eastern parts of the UK. However, rain across the far southwest will move quickly northeast across many places, accompanied by strong to gale force southeasterly winds. Parts of southeastern England could remain dry. Somewhat brighter conditions, but still with scattered showers, will reach western areas later. Feeling cold in the wind and rain.

Outlook for Monday and Tuesday:

A brighter day on Monday but still windy generally with occasional showers, and with rain reaching Northern Ireland later. More wet, windy weather across all parts for a time on Tuesday but some northern areas becoming fine by the afternoon.
