Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Most places will be dry and warm with plenty of sunshine on Tuesday as high pressure brings generally fine conditions. However, there will be a cooling easterly breeze across some southern parts, especially on the North Sea coasts, and some morning fog is likely over northeastern Scotland and N.Ireland.

Outlook for Wednesday and Thursday:
The fine, dry and warm weather will last across much of the country on both Wednesday and Thursday, with very warm conditions across much of central and eastern England. Southwestern Britain and perhaps N.Ireland will be more cloudy at times, perhaps with some showers.
