Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Generally cloudy, mild and breezy. Occasional outbreaks of light rain are expected, most frequently over western coasts and hills, with the driest and brightest weather and the best of any sunny spells in the east. It will become colder, clearer and more showery in the northwest later.

Outlook for Thursday and Friday:
Colder conditions will spread across all parts on Thursday with a mixture of sunny spells and scattered showers. Those showers will be mainly in the north, and are likely to be wintry. Milder but very windy conditions are forecast for Friday, with some rain in the north, and largely fine weather further south.
