Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
It will be a cloudy start to Monday, particularly down the North Sea coasts, where it will be quite misty and murky throughout the day. Elsewhere, it will be fine and dry, with warm sunny spells, particularly in the west. However, cloud and rain, possibly heavy and thundery, will arrive into southeast England overnight.

Outlook for Tuesday and Wednesday:

Rain and strong winds in the east will slowly spread westwards during Tuesday and Wednesday. However, many northern and western parts will stay fine and dry, with warm sunny spells on Tuesday. It will feel cool down North Sea coasts with a brisk north-easterly wind.
