Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Cloud and rain will clear the southeast of England around midday. Otherwise, a bright and windy day with sunny spells and scattered showers, the latter mainly in the north/west. These showers will be wintry in the north and give significant accumulations of snow over the Scottish mountains.

Outlook for Monday and Tuesday:

Frosty, and locally icy, start to Monday. Then a day of sunshine and showers. The showers will be mainly in the north and west with snow over hills. A cold and bright start for many on Tuesday. However, turning very windy with rain, occasionally heavy, across northwestern parts moving southeastwards through the day.
