Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Increasingly windy and very unsettled with rain spreading north across the country, becoming very heavy at times. Southerly gales developing in the south, with severe gales around coasts. Feeling rather cool for most, though warmer with some showers for northern Scotland.

Outlook for Friday and Saturday:
Cloudy wet and very windy on Friday with further heavy rain at times. There will be gales across the southern half of the UK with severe gales around coasts. Saturday looks drier and a little brighter for many, though still the risk of some patchy rain in the north.
