Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom until dawn tomorrow:
Skies will be cloudier today across western Scotland and Northern Ireland, with longer spells of rain likely. Elsewhere it will be another day of sunshine and showers. These will clear this evening, except in Wales and southwest England, leaving a dry but chilly night for most.

Outlook for Sunday and Monday:
Sunday looks to be a more settled day with long sunny spells. It will stay dry in the northwest of the UK, but a few showers are possible across England and Wales, which could turn heavy. Monday looks set to be mostly dry with sunny spells.
