++ Valid for broadcast at 2159

Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Predominantly cloudy across southern England and South Wales with occasional light showers, before heavier persistent rain arrives across southeast England during the evening. Generally brighter elsewhere across the United Kingdom with some sunshine, but also a scattering of heavy showers around. Feeling rather cool for the time of year everywhere tomorrow, with a keen breeze blowing.

Outlook for Monday and Tuesday:

Bright and fresh on Monday with a scattering of showers, although most of the showers will affect northern and eastern Britain. On Tuesday it will be generally fine and dry in the north and east, while turning humid and wet in the southwest.
