Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Over most of England and Wales there will be scattered showers, some of which will be prolonged and very heavy with thunder. Southern Scotland and the far north of England will remain wet and windy with more or less continuous rain, this heavy at times. Most of Northern Ireland and northern Scotland will be dry.

Outlook for Sunday and Monday:
On Sunday there will be scattered heavy showers or longer spells of rain, especially in the east, although many western areas will become dry and bright. Most places will be dry and bright on Monday, although there will be patchy rain in the west later.
