++ Valid for broadcast at 2159

Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Heavy rain, moving north across western and central parts tomorrow will make its way into Scotland by lunchtime with the southeast staying dry but cloudy. It will also be very windy across the country as speeds increase to gale force along northwestern parts with stronger gusts along the coasts.

Outlook for Monday and Tuesday:
Into next week, bands of cloud and rain will continue to affect most parts. However, some brighter and drier intervals will develop at times, with the best of the weather in the southeast. Winds will remain strong, especially in the north.
