Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Rather cloudy at first across England and Wales, with occasional outbreaks of rain, mainly across North Wales and Northern England. Drier with sunny intervals in the afternoon, but isolated showers will develop. Feeling much fresher in the northwest, especially in Scotland, where there will be frequent showers, at times turning heavy and thundery.

Outlook for Sunday and Monday:
Outbreaks of rain will continue to affect Northeast Scotland during Sunday, at times becoming heavy. Otherwise much of the UK can expect fine settled weather through Sunday and Monday, with some pleasant sunny spells, especially in the south and west.
