Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
There will be outbreaks of rain throughout the day across Scotland and Northern Ireland, with some heavy bursts at times. Elsewhere it will start dry and rather cloudy with a few bright spells. However, the rain will arrive in Wales and western parts of England into the afternoon.

Outlook for Thursday and Friday:

On Thursday there will be heavy rain across England and Wales, but it will be brighter in Northern Ireland and Scotland with just the odd shower. Friday will be settled for much of the day in the east, but there will be rain in the west which will move across later.
