Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom until dawn tomorrow:
It will be a dry with sunny periods for most. However, cloud will persist in many eastern areas and here it will feel cool. There may be a few showers in western Scotland. Cloud and rain will spread across southwestern parts of the UK this evening and overnight, along with an increasing breeze.

Outlook for Tuesday and Wednesday:
Cloud and rain will spread to all parts, reaching northeast Scotland by Tuesday evening. This will bring with it some patchy mist and hill fog. Some bright spells are possible in the south later. Further outbreaks of rain, accompanied by a brisk breeze, are expected on Wednesday.
