Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
It will be a dull start across much of England and Wales with some low cloud for eastern parts, however, through the afternoon it will gradually brighten up. Elsewhere it will stay cloudy, with some rain across parts of Scotland and Northern Ireland. It will feel mild and pleasant in any sunny spells.

Outlook for Tuesday and Wednesday:

Through Tuesday a band of light and patchy rain will clear southwards. This will introduce colder and clearer conditions for the British Isles. It will turn mostly settled on Wednesday with some sunny spells. Temperatures by night will fall and this will lead to overnight frost.
