++ Valid for broadcast at 2159

Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Although some parts of the UK will have a rather cloudy start to the day, by the afternoon most areas will be sunny. Western areas will remain cloudy though, with some outbreaks of light rain and drizzle, these most widespread across western Scotland. It will be mild in most places, and very mild in the sunshine.

Outlook for Monday and Tuesday:

The weather will be generally settled, with most places staying dry and with some bright or sunny periods developing on both Monday and Tuesday. It will remain mild, although any clear periods overnight may allow some patches of mist, fog or frost to form.
