Forecast for the UK.
Issued by the Met Office
at 1000 on Saturday 4 February 2006

 Valid for Broadcasts Between 1200 and 1800 **

Headline:

A lot of cloud. Some brighter spells, especially in north.

Today:

Dry just about everywhere but with generally cloudy, northern areas seeing the best of any brightness. A little fog across Northern Ireland and Scotland. Feeling less cold than recently.

Tonight:

Some cloud breaks, leading to local frost and some fog, but most places will continue to be cloudy.

Outlook for Sunday:

Largely dry. A lot of cloud but a better prospect of sunny spells.
