Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
A damp start for the earliest of risers in the far south, but otherwise a cloudy start for England and Wales. It will soon turn sunnier though, and will feel warm in the afternoon. Sunshine and scattered heavy showers across Scotland and Northern Ireland where it will be breezy, but less than Saturday.

Outlook for Monday and Tuesday:
Shows on Monday across southern and central areas, but sunshine here too. Drier across Scotland and Northern Ireland though, with sunshine and just a few showers. On Tuesday we will see a band of rain affecting Wales and some central parts, which could be heavy and prolonged.
