Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
It will be a cooler and cloudier day for most tomorrow, particularly in the east. Outbreaks of rain will spread across central and northern England, perhaps turning heavy for a time here later. Elsewhere, it will remain dry but mostly cloudy, with the best of any sunshine in Scotland and the far south of England.

Outlook for Thursday and Friday:
The rain across central parts will gradually ease through Thursday and Friday. To the north and south it will be mostly dry and bright, and warmer too, although there will be scattered showers in the south, these perhaps turning heavy and thundery in places.
