

Met Mag Format

Early versions of Met Mag start the year with statistics for February and end with the statistics for the January of the following year. In this archive the files list Jan of the next year first followed by Feb-Dec of the previous years. Later issues from 1947 going forward follow the standard calendar year format.

World War Period

During the WW2 years Met Mag ceased with the issue for June 1940. This was largely due to lack of resource. A typescript version was produced in the interim period but the official Met Mag was not published again until 1947

Met Mag Corrections

Some issues have had rescans inserted where data was not originally captured clearly. In some cases pages are replaced and occasionally duplicated to ensure clarity. There are some volumes that are so tightly bound that the scan still does not completely capture the detail. In these cases the originals may need to be consulted.
