Forecast for the UK.
Issued by the Met Office
at 1945 on Saturday 4 November 2006

** Valid for Broadcast at 2159 **

Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow :
Scotland mostly cloudy with a little light rain, drizzle in northwest and Shetland and strong winds in the north. Northern Ireland and the northern half of England and Wales will have patchy cloud and be quite windy. Further south, winds will be light and there will be long sunny spells.

Outlook for Monday and Tuesday:

Monday, starting quite foggy in parts of the south, clearing during the morning. Scotland and Northern Ireland quite breezy, rather cloudy and mild, with rain likely in the far north. Tuesday, rain moving southeast across Scotland and Northern Ireland to Wales and northern England. Sunnier and less cold in south.
