++ Valid for broadcast at 2159

Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Uplands parts of NW Scotland will continue to see rain and drizzle at times, which may be heavy at first, elsewhere though it should be drier. Rather cloudy to start with in most places, but some brighter spells will develop particularly in the south and east.

Outlook for Tuesday and Wednesday:

Although it will be mainly dry in the south - a band of rain will move southwards on Tuesday and Tuesday night, with some sleet or snow in the north as it clears. Colder, conditions with some wintry showers will follow to most parts on Wednesday.
