Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Any low cloud and mist will quickly burn back toward North Sea coasts during the morning, to leave a fine, warm and sunny day for most places. However, there will be some scattered showers developing, but not exclusively across the north and west, with the risk of hail and thunder. Feeling humid for many as well.

Outlook for Wednesday and Thursday:
It will remain generally fine and warm with scattered heavy and thundery showers in the west during Wednesday, which are likely to be more isolated by Thursday. It will remain warm and humid in the sunshine until the end of the week.
