Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:

A cold and clear start to the day for most, with a widespread ground frost at first. There may also be some mist or fog patches, which will clear through the morning. Then, a largely dry and sunny day, but there may be some showers in the far north and west which will tend to fade in the afternoon.

Outlook for Monday and Tuesday:

A clear and chilly start in eastern areas, however wet and windy conditions will quickly spread from the west, reaching southeastern parts into the afternoon. Mainly cloudy and mild on Tuesday with some rain, most likely in the north and west.
