Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
There will be a good deal of cloud for many parts of the country throughout tomorrow. However, it will be dry for most and some bright spells will develop, with the best of the sunshine in the northeast of Scotland.

Outlook for Thursday and Friday:

Remaining fairly cloudy, but mostly dry, on Thursday. However, there will be some bright spells, especially in the northeast. Later in the day, some showery outbreaks may affect southwestern parts. It will probably turn more unsettled and breezier by Friday, with rain most likely in the south and west of the country.
