Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Central and Southern Scotland, Western England and Wales will be cloudy with outbreaks of rain, which will be heavy at times. Elsewhere, it should be brighter with a little sunshine. However, showers will break out later in the morning and during the afternoon, which could be heavy in places.

Outlook for Thursday and Friday:

All parts will be rather cloudy on Thursday with showers which could be heavy and thundery. Some more prolonged rain is likely across Scotland. Friday will be a brighter day with sunny spells. Many western parts could stay dry, although a few showers are likely in the north and east.
