Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Largely dry, very warm and sunny again with light winds across most of the UK tomorrow. Quite a cloudy morning though in some areas, especially in the east, but this cloud should thin and break during the day, retreating to more coastal areas during the afternoon.

Outlook for Friday and Saturday:

Remaining dry and sunny for many, with temperatures rising again, especially across England and Wales, becoming locally hot here. Also, an increasing risk of isolated thunderstorms breaking out in the heat, particularly across Scotland later Friday, then mainly eastern parts of England during Saturday whilst becoming cooler and cloudier across Scotland and Northern Ireland.
