Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
After another chilly start on Monday morning with some early mist and fog patches, the settled weather continues across the UK with sunny periods and scattered clouds for all. It will feel warm in the afternoon sunshine, but it will also be breezy across the south and west, although there will be lighter winds elsewhere.

Outlook for Tuesday and Wednesday:
High pressure will persist into the middle of the working week bringing patchy cloud and sunny intervals, with mostly dry conditions across the country. It will continue to feel warm by day, but with chilly and misty nights possible. Also remaining breezy in the south.
