Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Remaining dull and cool in northeast England and eastern Scotland. There will be further showery rain for the west and southwest, this will be occasionally heavy and thundery. However, there will be sunny spells and fairly warm conditions in the southeast, before possible scattered showers arrive later.

Outlook for Friday and Saturday:

Rain gradually clearing the north and northeast on Friday with showers, heavy at times with possible thunder, in the west. Generally dry and bright elsewhere. A bright start for some eastern areas on Saturday but outbreaks of rain in the west, moving north.
