Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
It will be wet and windy again for most, with the heaviest rain in northern and western areas. Winds will be strongest in the morning and evening, reaching gale force at times. Southern and eastern areas are likely to be drier with some bright spells developing.

Outlook for Tuesday and Wednesday:

It will be cloudy and dry on Tuesday for southern and central areas, though there will be heavy rain throughout the day for Northern Ireland, western Scotland and Wales. On Wednesday further rain is expected in central England, Yorkshire, and Wales. Elsewhere there will be bright spells and the odd shower.
