Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Many areas will start dull and misty and there will also be some fog patches, although as the day goes on sunny spells will gradually break through in most locations. However, rain will spread into Northern Ireland and the far west of Scotland later.

Outlook for Saturday and Sunday:

On Saturday a band of rain will move eastwards across the country but drier, brighter weather with sunny spells will follow from the west. On Sunday most places will be dry with sunny spells, although there will be a little rain in the far northwest of Scotland.
