An Action between a British Squadron under Sir John Jervis and a French Ship in the Bay of Algiers; in it the Hannibal, a British man of war, got aground & blown up; & a French ship, the bloody engagement; & the French ships, 3 men of war & a frigate, two of the former got aground, & the whole rendered unseaworthy.

And Engagements on 2^d between the Squadron under Sir J. S. & the French Fleet joined by a reinforcement of 1 French & 5 Spanish ships, & the Hannibal taken before, so that the enemy was twice the number of British ships; in it the Spanish 22ⁿ ship burnt, and set on fire, & one struck its colours; the rest got off in the night.

Beech begin to foliate; a few hazels begin to foliate above a fence, but for the last cold weather, the foliage was probably been as far as a week or two ago as at present.
