

Forecast For The United Kingdom
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1945 on Thursday 06 Aug 2009

++ Valid for broadcast at 2159

Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:

Rain in eastern counties of England gradually eases during the morning, although occasional showers may continue throughout the day. Elsewhere, early mist and fog patches will clear and it will be a largely dry day with plenty of sunny periods and only isolated showers, these most likely in Scotland and Northern Ireland.

Outlook for Saturday and Sunday:

A dry and sunny start for many places on Saturday but it becomes cloudier during the day with a chance of showers or longer spells of rain in the west. Further showers are expected in the west on Sunday, these spreading east and becoming more persistent at times.

(C) Crown Copyright 2009. Published by the Met Office.