Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Any fog may linger through the morning in southern England, but across central areas and Wales it will clear quickly as skies turn cloudy. Across the rest of the UK it will be a fine day with sunshine for most and even in central parts the cloud will begin to break up later.

Outlook for Friday and Saturday:
Friday will be mainly cloudy with some rain possible, but the chance of rain will increase later into the evening. Over the weekend it will turn colder, with a risk of the odd shower throughout Saturday, but these will ease on Sunday to leave drier conditions.
