Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Cloud and showery rain across southern, central and western parts will gradually clear away to the west with brighter skies developing into the afternoon. However, these brighter skies will then trigger some heavy, perhaps thundery, showers. To the north, Scotland, Northern England and later Northern Ireland will see a fine, warm and sunny day, but always cooler along windward coasts.

Outlook for Thursday and Friday:

Early mist and low cloud will burn away to leave a largely fine day with warm sunny spells. However, a few heavy showers may develop in the southwest. Feeling cooler for all by Friday with sunny spells and isolated showers.
