Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:

A wet and windy day for much of Scotland, Northern Ireland and northern England, with outbreaks of rain and hill snow continuing for much of the day. Further south, a rather cold and cloudy day, with some brightness from time to time but also occasional lighter rain.

Outlook for Wednesday and Thursday:

Another unsettled day for many on Wednesday, breezy with outbreaks of rain, but less cold in the south than recently. After a cold and frosty start, Thursday will be dry and bright in most places, but rain is expected in southern counties and northern coastal areas will see scattered snow showers.
